In Memoriam

Linda Hicks

Abide with me; fast falls the eventide;
The darkness deepens; Lord with me abide;
When other helpers fail, and comforts flee; Help of the helpless, O, abide with me.

Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;
Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;
Change and decay in all around I see;
O, Thou who changest not, abide with me.

I fear no foe with Thee at hand to bless;
Ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness;
Where is death's sting? Where, grave, thy victory?
I triumph still, if Thou abide with me.

Hold Thou Thy cross before my closing eyes;
Shine through the gloom, and point me to the skies;
Heav'n's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee;
In life, in death, O Lord, abide with me.

So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption,
And this mortal shall have put on immortality,
Then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written,
Death is swallowed up in victory.
O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

I Corinthians 15: 54-57

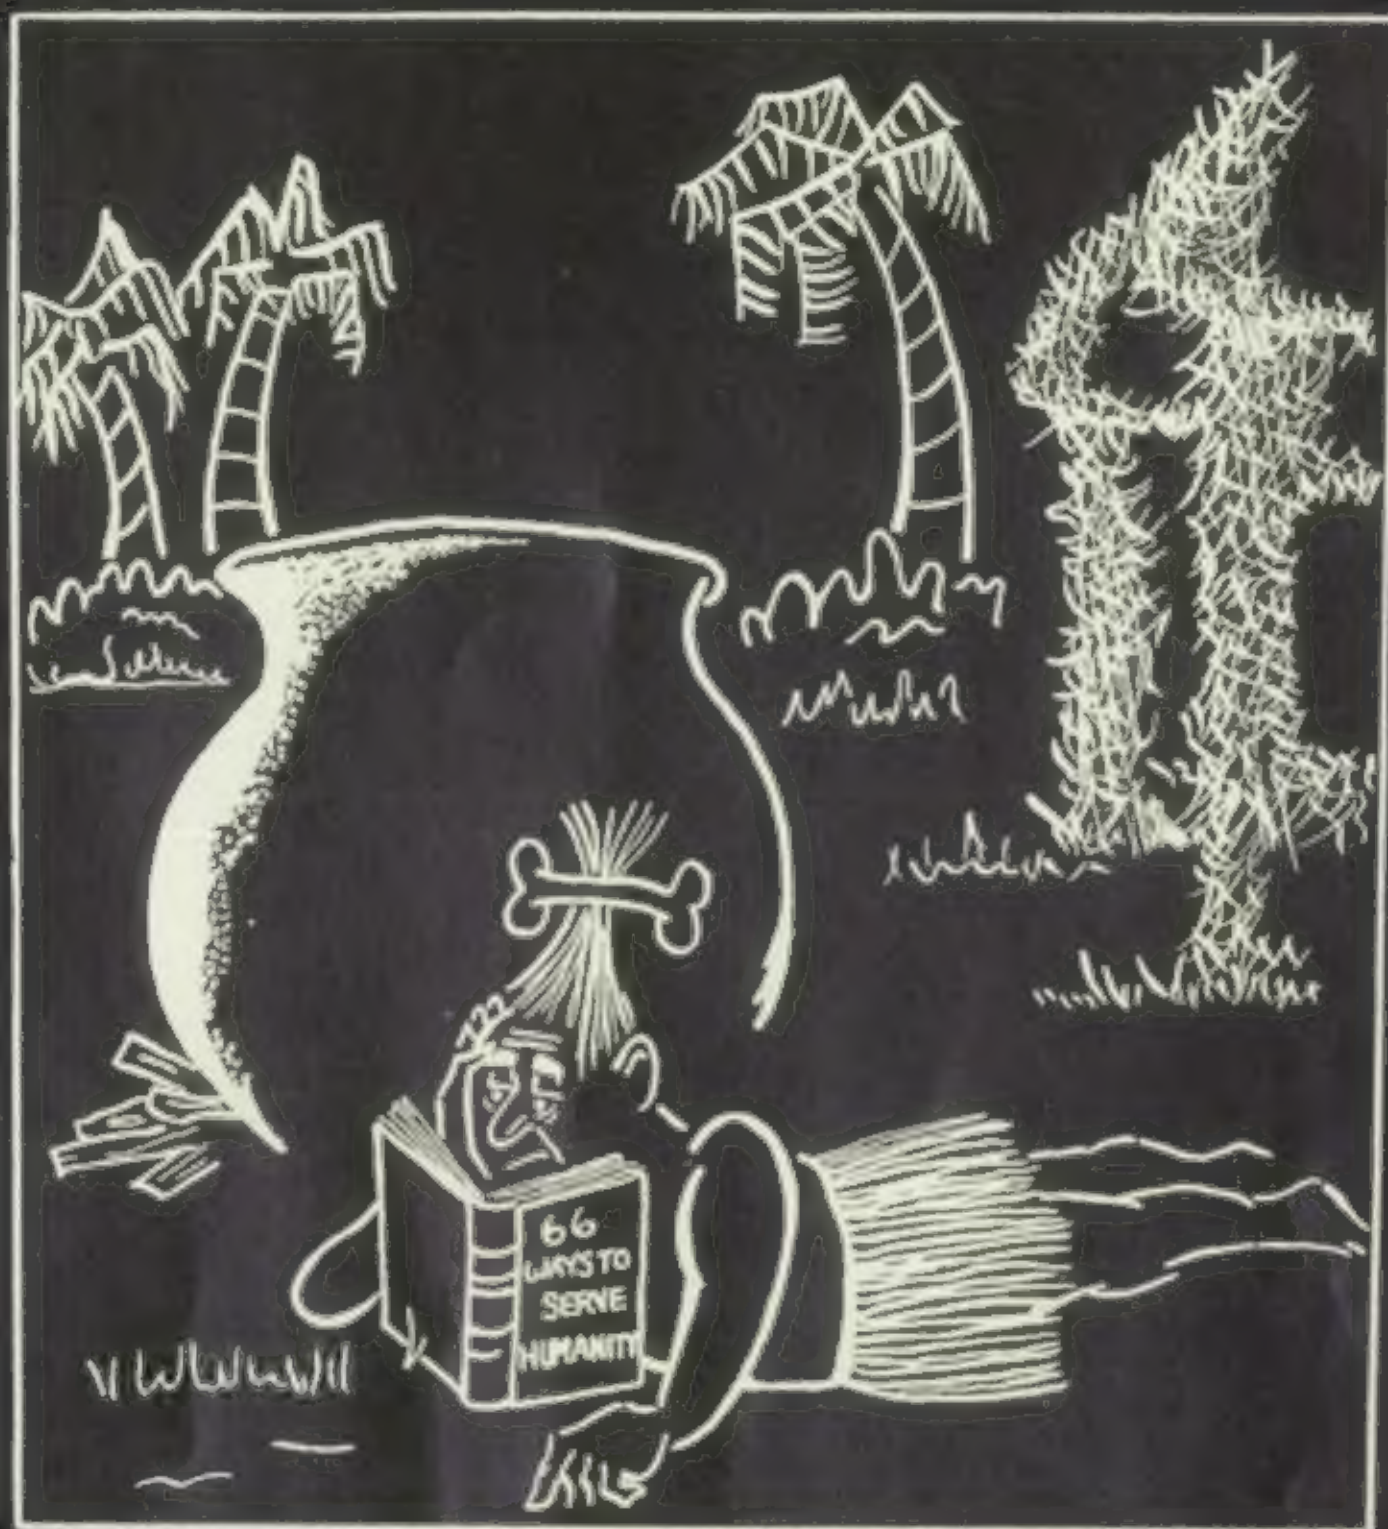

Why Africa Is Our Theme

"The eyes of the earth are on Africa, the symbol of the future and, in fact, the last frontier of the world." Although these words uttered by a great American admiral of World War II fame are of a pre-space and pre-IGY age, the statement remains sound. Africa is indeed a last frontier. Resurging nationalism, colonial peoples working and achieving independence from European controls, and the almost unquenchable individual thirst for learning destroy the stereotype concept that Africa is a continent of the savage and the jungle. As the jungle frontier disappears, the savage becomes a man dedicated to the future of his new nation and to himself. Although the symbolism may be a little heavy, the eyes on the end-sheets of this yearbook represent the questioning search that man has regarding the future. What will it bring? And Africa represents the future with all of the unknown things good and bad it will bring. We, the senior staff members of the 1959 MEMORIES have our eyes on our individual futures. The image like that of Africa's future is not in focus. We pray that we may contribute constructively to the future of our own nation and our individual "Africas," as we carve new lives in factory, business establishment, farm, college classroom and home.

The cover scene was taken by annual photographer, Lee Bryan, on an African safari last summer. It is a typical coastal scene from Portuguese Mozambique. For further information and literature regarding travel in South Africa, please consult your local travel agent or write direct to the nearest office of the SOUTH AFRICAN TOURIST CORPORATION.

SENIORS

Gary Scott-- Everybody is ignorant, only on different subjects.

Maryann Holtz-apple--When angry, count to four; when very angry, swear.

Karen Nusbaum--
The smaller the head, the bigger the dreams.

Jim Patton--He
is old enough to know worse.

Sharon Miller--
It seems such a pity that Noah
and his party did not miss the boat.

Dennis A. Stemen
--They say the good die young,
so I am careful.

Dave Morris--
When I'm not engaged in thought, I'm recovering from it's effect.

Joan Meyer--She
looks like an angel, and acts like one too, but you never can tell what an angel
might do.

Dwain Metzger--
It is easy for men to talk on one thing and mean another

Kay Donovan--As
I think, so I speak

Darlyn Hefner--
Full of mischief
and a lot of fun

John Desenberg-- An artist should be fit for the best society and keep out of it

Joyce Hollar-- There is a lot to say in her favor, but the other is more interesting.

Ronnie Shafer--I have never let my schooling interfere with my education.

Mike Miller--I kissed my first woman and smoked my first cigarette on the same day; I have never had time for tobacco since.

Carolyn Musser--
When some folks
don't know anything mean about someone, they switch the subject

Steve Timmons-- When I want to read a book I write one.

Janice Laman--
The things most people want to know about are usually none of their business

Donna Leist- The
woman with a past, has no future.

Car Hermon--
He was born silly
and had a relapse.

Janet Morris--
Never buy a thing
you don't want mercy because it is dear.

Dick Ladd--He
is an adventurer
who trice weary finds his source

Bob Smith--I refuse to birth or death save to enjoy the inter-va.

Emma Ruff--
Really and truly
--I've nothing to wear

Darrel Bowers--
If you're there before it's over,
you're on time

Sue Chapman--
She is an excellent creature,
but she never can remember which came first, the Greeks or the Romans

Karen Fair--I'm not arguing with you--I'm telling you

Larry Holler-- Whoever thinks of going to bed before twelve o'clock is a scoundrel.

Judy Miller--She
was permanently waved both as to hair and figure.

Dick Hollar-- Women are just like elephants,
I like to look at them, but I wouldn't want one

Eldon Heatwole-- All I know, is what I read in the comics

Helen Good--
There are no secrets better kept than the secrets that everybody guesses

Charles Clark--
Of two evils choose the prettier

Janice Stalter-- Hard work and ambition leads to success

Karen Arnold--
If you want to be thought a liar always tell the truth

Dennis L. Stemen
--He had reason
for not working,
he said your body
was only a machine and he was no mechanic.

Carolyn Wade--
She liked to like people, therefore people like her.

Roger Woollum--
It used to be a good hotel, but that proves nothing--I used to be a good boy.

Ray Sroufe--His
by-word is sports

Marian Ehresman
--I can resist everything except temptation.

Gary Barber--Be
good and you will be lonesome

Wilma Long--
To avoid criticism, do nothing,
say nothing, and
be nothing.

Donna McKinney
--If you would keep a secret
from an enemy,
tell it not to a friend.

Gary Longbrake
--I rise from bed
the first thing in the morning, not because I'm dissatisfied with it, but because I cannot carry it with me during the day.

Judith Croft--
One can be bored
until boredom
becomes mystical experience.

David Kesler--
Give me a laundry list and I'll set it to music

Clod Ridenour--
Not that I love study less, but I love fun more

Connie Follas--
When in do it tell the truth

Lee Bryan--Better
a witty fool than a foolish wit.

Marilyn Wade--
Never buy a thing
that you don't want merely because it is dear.

Sharon Foust-- If you tell the truth you don't have to remember anything.

Kenny Holtzapple
--A well-lie lie
is the first serious
step in life

Janell Stocton-- Silence is sometimes better than words.

Kenny Heath--
The less one has to do, the less time one finds to do it in.

Marvin Wilkins--
He was not made for climbing the tree of knowledge.

Connie Shepherd
--When I was young I used to think that money was the most important thing in life; now that I am old, I know it is.

Tom Becker--
He's old enough to know worse.

Lucretia Bice-- Clever people never listen and stupid people
never talk

Jeanine Williams
--Why resist
temptation--there will always be more.

Bill Kline--I will praise any man
that will praise
me

Oscar Etgen--Talk to a man about himself and he will listen for hours.

Kenny Huber--He
that teaches himself hath a fool
for a master

Alfonso Mauricio
--The more fun
the better

Rita Miller-- God created women only to tame man

Don Redd--I could sit in a field of posies all day and smell them.

Harold Stockman
--He charged nothing for his preaching, and it was worth it,
too

Senior Class Prophecy

After cruising for 10 years about the planet earth as the first man put into orbit, I grew lonely and parachuted down. When I was just about to hit the ground I was jerked to a sudden halt. I looked up and saw that my parachute was caught in the WIMA Radio Antenna, so while I waited for help, I plugged in my pocket transistor to listen to some music. The music was interrupted by the announcer, Ray Straker, who attributed his radio success to his excellent grades in speech at Linda Loma. Ray began telling of an African tour leaving Linda Municipal Airport in approximately fifteen minutes. Since I always wanted to go on a safari, I unsnapped my parachute and shinned down the antenna.

After I arrived at the airport, I joined the line to the ticket window, I looked through and there selling was no other than Jeanine Williams. As I climbed up the ramp into the plane I was greeted by a double hostess. I mean twin hostesses, in fact, the Wade twins. The twins took me to the front of the plane to introduce me to the hostess of the WIMA tour. As she said, "Meet Carolyn Messer, Easter Straker's tabular replacement," I could easily see why she had earned her job. When Carolyn heard my story, she invited me to join their tour. I happily agreed to her offer and started to make myself acquainted with the passengers on the plane. The first seat was occupied by those two millionaire playboys, Larry Hodler and Bill Kline. Seated on the opposite side, was the winner of the Indianapolis 500 this year, Lee Bryan with his girlfriend, Sue Chapman, holder in the women's dirt track record.

In the seats behind the millionaires was a group of movie makers going to Africa to make the movie "Last of the Mau Maus". The theme song was to be sung by the singing lady, Miss Joan Meyer, dubbed "the last of the red hot Mau Maus". Also in the group was Joan's cohorts the "Blastones". These three girls whose names are Karen Fair, Rita Miller, and Connie Follas, had brought along with them their personal manager, the noted man about town, Mr. Kenneth Barney Holzapfel. The female lead of the movie was to be Joyce "Clamor Girl" Hollar. Opposite her in the male role was the Rudy Vallee of today, Gary "Lover boy" Herman. These two graduates often trying to break into Hollywood for several years finally went to one of the best promoters in the business and hired him as their agent. They immediately shot to the top under his direction. "Fighting" Dave and his, "OOPS" I forgot to tell you his name, naturally, we all remember him, "Fighting" Dave Morris and his pokey personal secretary, Sharon Miller. (Sharon slows Dave down to where he can work.)

Farther on down the aisle was a pair of honeymooning couples, "Sitch" what lovely looking matches. Darrel Bowers and Judy Cniff and Edson Heatwile with the ex-Helen Good. Yes, life is grand! Suddenly, the plane lurched and staggered, one of the motors was a-fire. I rushed to the pilot's cabin to check our position. The pilot and co-pilot were sending out an S.O.S. on our position while the flight engineer was trying to fight the fire. Yes, just seeing the smooth cooperation of these three leaders was satisfying. Certainly no one can say that Dwain Metzger and George Ronald Shater would be beat as pilot and co-pilot while their hard-working engineer, Dennis "Dunk" Stemen, was positively brilliant in his field. As the plane crashed, I blacked out, the last thing I heard was "Dunk" saying, "right in the middle of peak petrifying, pigmy country". When I awoke, I tried to move but couldn't -- I was tied hand and foot. I looked about and saw the rest of our group about me. "EGADS! What is this dancing toward us?" It's a witchdoctor, wow, what a dancer, almost like Mike, oh, no, it is, it's our old buddy, Roger Woodham. He has a knife in his hand and he's coming this way. Behind him are several women coming out of hats with -- why they're large cooking pots! But even these women look familiar. Over to my left are Janell Stockton and Connie Shepherd fighting to see who gets "Fighting" Dave while on my right Karen Neubaum and Emma Rull are trying to hit a pot full of people. There, going to help them, is Marian Holzapfel. Well, friends, this is it. I am on the menu for tonight. I'm in the pot now and beneath it they're piling wood for a fire! Gee, look, there's Daryn Hetner and Janet Morris pulling whole trees down. Boy are they eager. On top they're pitting in vegetables and salt. The cooks are Karen Arnold, Lou Rice, Donna McKinney, and Marian Firesman. "Little too much salt, girls." Ha, ha, can't stand salty food.

Wait, what's going on -- at there? Wait until I get this carrot out of my eye. Now, Yeah! We're saved! Coming over the wall is the Foreign Legion. What's that at command? Why, is that dashing hero, Dick Ladd? Dick made captain again! He was demoted for filling in the Suez Canal last week. Dick has his four trusty lieutenants with him. Here they come all in a row! They are Kenny Haber, Gary Longbrake, Bob Smith, and Cloud Ridenour. Well, the fight is about over now. Dick's men have pulled a few more of the cooks out of hiding. There are Wilma Long and Jancie Stalter.

Watch out! Our two more just attacked Mike Miller and Jim Patton, two of Dick's more famous men. Mike had been hurt but they got their men -- I mean cooks. Who are they? Yes, they are none other than Janice Laman and Donna Leist. Mike is being helped over to the nurse's tent for first aid. Boy, I think I'll start myself! Well, there are among the nurses Kay Donovan and Sharon Faust. The two doctors are consulting over Mike's injury. Dick Hollar seems to be asking Harold Stockman if the doctors will need help. Harold agreed and so the noted surgeon, Dr. D. A. Stemen and Dr. Thomas Becker are sent for. Soon a plane lands in the clearing and out of it steps the doctors.

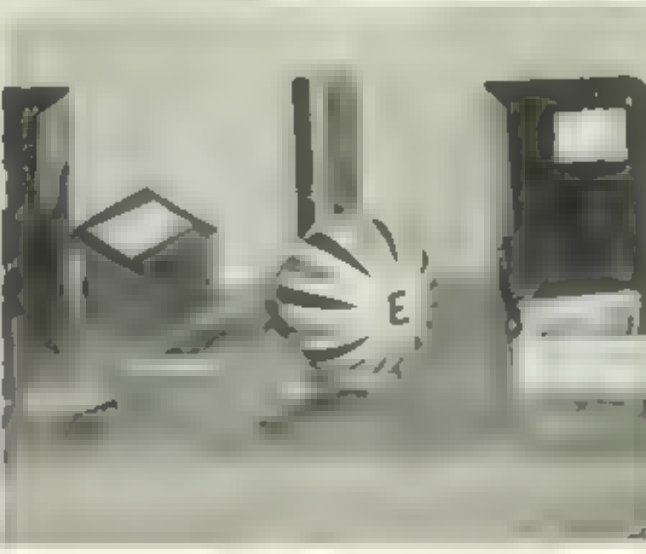

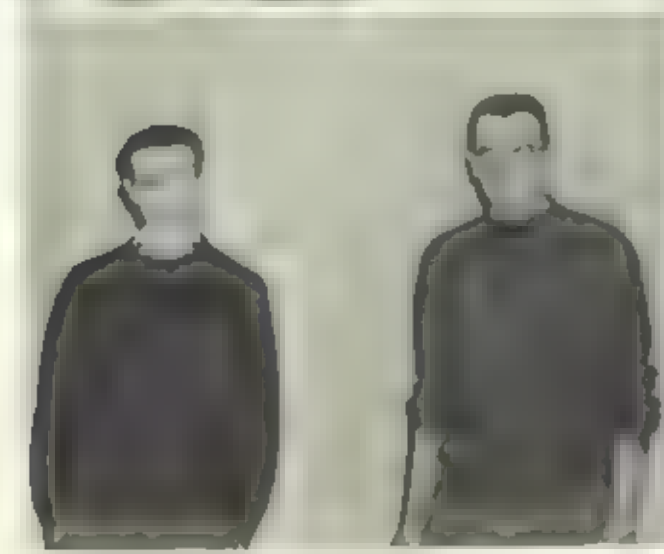

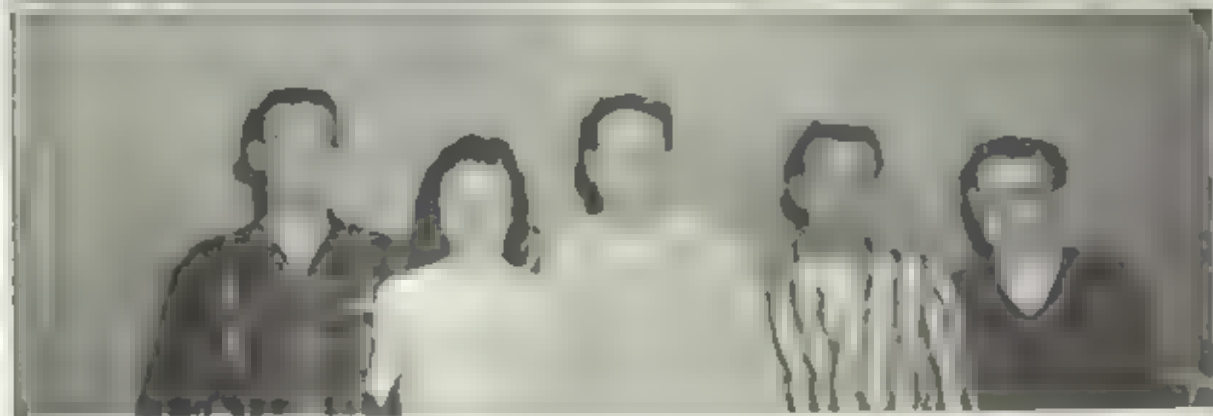

Right behind them is a large crowd of newsmen. There's John Desenberg and David Kusler from the Times, and their photographer, Charlie (Snap) Clark, Kenny Heath, and Oscar (Clicker) Etzen.

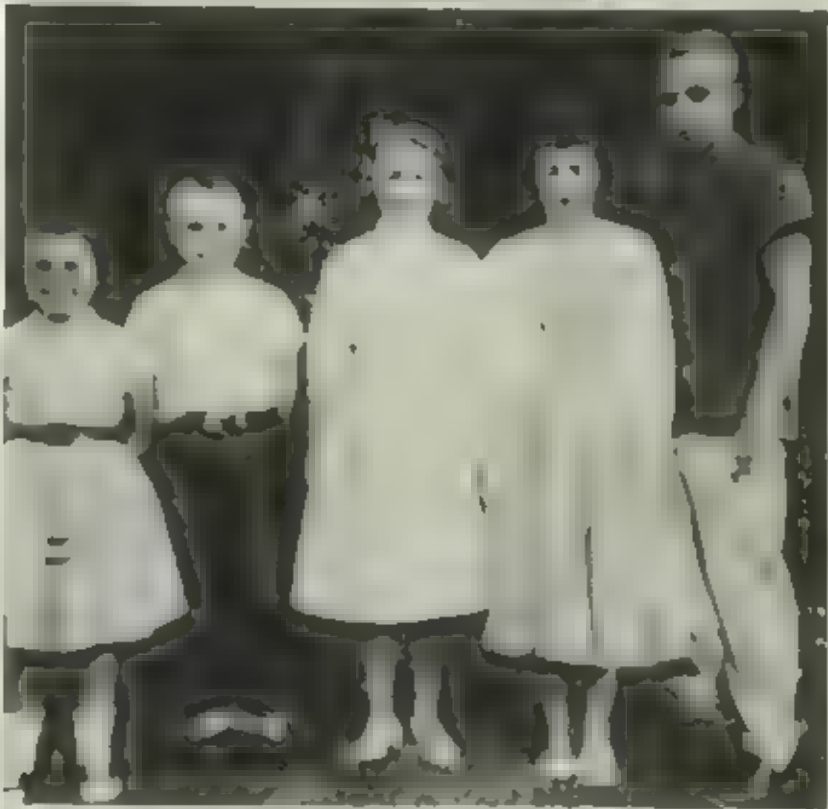

After these people, come the pilot and co-pilot, Earl (Flash) Redd and Marvin (Fireball) Wilkins with the government inspectors, Gary Barber and Steve (Eagle Eye) Timmons.

Now all is done but the arguing. It seems that caught in the burning engine intake was a parachute harness which caused the fire. Dunk says that as they were taking off over Linda, the harness caught it but the inspectors say it is impossible. They say no one has parachuted around Linda for many years. He don't know me, do he? Ha, Ha!

Seniors' Last Wills

- I, Karen Arnold, will my job as compiler on the Bulldog Review to Linda Long.
- I, Cary Barber, will my will to study to Bill Dunahay.
- I, Tom Becker, will my ability to sleep through P.A.D. class and still pass to an one who wants to try it
- I, Lucretia Bice, will my dumbness to Mr. Hayduk after four years of trying to teach me English

Junior Band

Mtoto Mambo Smokers (Baby Noise Makers)

The Junior Band is made up of students of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. The purpose of this band is to better prepare the students for the Varsity Band and to help their future music interests. This band is under the direction of Mr. Wollenhaupt and is in the second year of practice. This group, combined with 60% private study will help to supplement the Varsity band in the future.

The Junior Band teaches the students the basic music fundamentals and allows the students to acquaint themselves with group playing. It also teaches them the relationship of their own instrument or section to the entire group. It teaches the students the music terms and their application and general musicianship. They learn the marching fundamentals which in the future will help the Varsity Marching Band. Continued interest in this band is producing some very favorable results.

Future Farmers of America

Akal (Share Croppers)

The Future Farmers of America is a group of boys who believe in the future of farming. Their purpose is to practice brotherhood, honor rural opportunities and responsibilities, and develop those qualities of leadership which a Future Farmer should possess.

The boys have projects which include livestock and crops. They also make, in shop, articles that can be used around the home and farm. To raise money for the chapter fund, the boys sell field seed to the farmers in the Community, construct booths in the farm shop as part of the school carnival, and make and sell other small projects and articles for the chapter fund.

On many days when the chapter meets frequently, the boys go to the local office and sell. They also go to farms and learn to get the best price for the farmer unnecessary expenses.

Once a month the boys meet in their Chapter Meeting where they discuss the chapter's business, the transactions of business. After the meeting, the boys have refreshments and recreation.

The present chapter has one member in the Elida Chapter. Any boy who is a member of the chapter can be a member of the F.F.A. The chapter is led by Mr. [unclear] as the chapter leader.

Plant-Kalas (Can Openers)

Future Homemakers of America is composed of girls from grades 9-12 who have had at least one year of home economics. The purpose of the organization are as follows: (1) To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking. (2) To emphasize the importance of work. (3) To encourage efficiency in home and community life. (4) To work for good home and family life for all. (5) To promote international good will. (6) To foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life. (7) To provide wholesome individual and group recreation. (8) To further interest in home economics. The distinguishing colors are red and white. The colors are symbolic of youth - youth which has courage and determination to succeed, yet has innocence and purity. It is also symbolic of home life and the success of which is of utmost importance. The motto of the Future Homemakers of America - Toward New Horizons, expresses the purpose of the organization - learning to live better today in order that our lives and those of our families may be better tomorrow.

Junior Class Play

The Junior class of Columbia School presented the play "Noting But The Form" on Monday 5 and 6.

The cast was composed of six girls and five boys with Mr. Brown as director. The boy and girl leads.

The three act play was written by James Montgomery and directed at Columbia by Mr. Robert Whittington.

Act I begins in the interior of a broker's office in one of the city's apartment houses. A argument begins about whether a broker should tell the truth to his clients.

Mr. Raster (Robert Arnold), Dick Donnelly (Tom Brown), and later Evan Dace (John Smith), all partners of the firm, tell Tony Arnold (James Arnold) $10,000, but they could not tell the truth. Tony Arnold, Robert in the play, tells $10,000 of Mr. Raster's partner, Owen Perry, to buy it in something worthwhile.

Robert Arnold tries to prevent the truth from being told. Besides he has to keep Gwen from knowing he used her money for the bet.

Robert struggles with a suspicioning Tony to be faced the next day with the questions from his reporters. Tony questions his love for her and wants to know what he did with her money. He tries to evade the questions, but he is not for the bet. Robert tries to win the bet, but also Gwen.

The F. B. L. A. is a national organization with the state and National Organization of Business Leaders and the F. B. L. A. Association. The purposes of this organization is to advance business opportunities and to encourage students to participate in the business field.

Many business leaders and business women are active in this organization. Local meetings are held once a month with special meetings called when necessary. The programs of these meetings feature personnel speakers or panels of businessmen and women.

The F. B. L. A. Chapter was the recipient of the Gold Seal Award which is presented to those chapters with outstanding local programs. The chapter receives this recognition as there have only been four chapters in Ohio receiving this award in previous years. The chapter was also named the outstanding chapter in Ohio in 1985 at the state convention. The chapter took place in far eastern, Procedure. The Local Chapter Executive took a place in the National Convention. The officers are: Pres., Irma Ruff, V.P., Sharon Miller; Sec., Janice Laman; Treas., Muma LaRue; Reporter, Carolyn Musser.

Junior Achievement

Shenzis et Bibis Washauri. (Men and Women of Business)

Junior Achievement at Feltus School is now in its second year. It is sponsored by local business industries and service clubs. Junior Achievement gives boys and girls experience in how to become producers and selling goods or services, paying and receiving wages, and using capital.

Each company which consists of young men and women between the ages of fifteen and nineteen chooses a name, selects products which it will produce, and applies for a charter. Each company has three advisors: a sales advisor, a production advisor, and a business advisor. After the company has selected its product, it must sign a lease for a room in which the product will be manufactured. The company also has to purchase the raw materials for the product.

Each member of a company sells stocks to raise money for the payment of the materials and the leased room. Each member works in the manufacture of the product for which he receives hourly wages and sells the product for a commission. Any member of the company who is absent from three successive weeks without the company shall lose his membership unless he presents an excuse acceptable to the president and the business advisor, he is automatically reinstated as a member.

Kathy Holtzapfel is in Olga Leathers which is manufacturing key chains, coin purses, wallets, and pocket savers. Carol Pierce, Sandra Morris, and Jo Ann Altenburger are in the Lexco Company which is producing tool boxes and a yarn novelty. Susan Foster and Ellen Garrison, are in Norco which is making beanie babies in the shape of pigs. Don Reed is in the Bar Trives Company. Larry Creek and Bill Feltus are in the Be Co. Company which is making Christmas decorations. Rita Miller, Connie Feltus, Karen Feltus, and Linda Leist are in the So-Kem Gre Company which is manufacturing want food. Roger Woodham is in the J. Tel Company which is producing leather desk sets. Sally Searfoss is in the Weat'ng Case Company. Laura Bereaw and Becky Feltus belong to the Time which has a weekly radio program on Wednesday, 8:30 p.m.

We feel that Junior Achievement has proved to be a great success and we will continue to look to the future!

Varsity Football

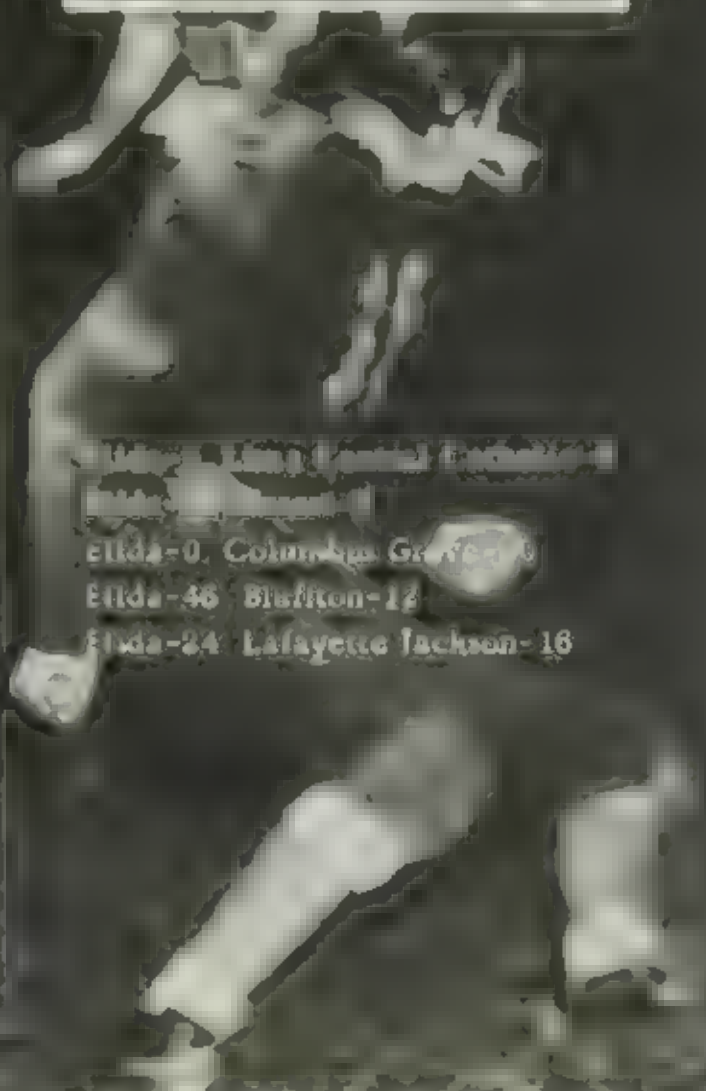

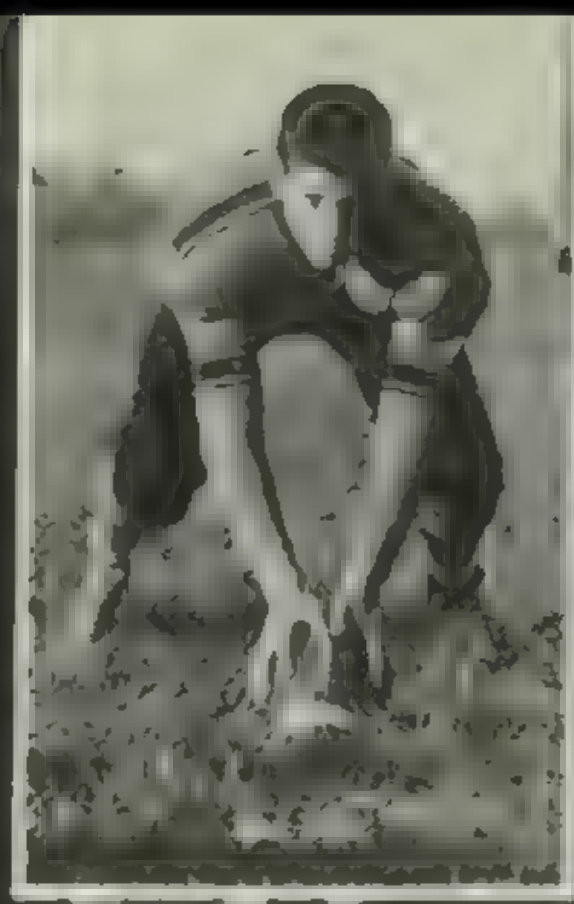

Arclott Hyman (Bloody Warriors)

The first red head of the footballers was a most interesting and exciting one to be old. Some of the players at the beginning of the season were well known and played football and a crop of eager supporters. The ball only went very far from football, for their to lovers.

The footballers of the North went to the North and the North went to the North and the North went to the North. There seemed to be too much inexperience to some of the veteran powerhouses that had to be faced in the course of the season. However, with such outstanding players as Ron Slater, John Desenberg and Ray Smith, the development of the team into a line of offensive and defensive play of the Bulldogs was a great success. The success of the Bulldogs was the achievement of the Bulldogs, the development of the Bulldogs into a strong team and the Bulldogs were the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs were spread throughout the Bulldogs and the Bulldogs were spread throughout the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs were spread throughout the Bulldogs.

Two elderly spinsters were discussing a third. "Well," said one old maid, "I see Josie is finally engaged."

"Not really," said her friend, in surprise. "How did she land a man?"

"She saw his picture in the Post Office, and just offered $100 more than the police were bidding."

Her husband came tottering home at 3 A.M., and she was up to greet him. "Well, You're home at last. You've decided home is the best place after all, is that it?"

"Home," said hubby, "is the only place that's open at this hour."

The little boy came running home from his first Sunday School class and his daddy picked him up and asked:

"Well, sonny, and what did you learn in Sunday School today?"

"I learned about the cross-eyed bear named Gladly," the boy said.

"That's something new," his father said. "Tell me about it."

"We sang a song about him," the boy said, "Gladly the Cross I'd Bear."

"I don't understand why your parents sent you to see me," said the psychiatrist after completing a thorough examination. "You seem perfectly rational to me. In fact, I would say that you are just as sane as I am."

"Exactly," cried the girl happily. "That's what I keep telling my parents. But just because I like apple dumplings they think I'm crazy."

"That's absurd," retorted the psychiatrist. "Why, I like apple dumplings myself."

"You do?" squeaked the girl in sheer joy. "Well, really, you must come over to our house and try some of mine. I have closets full of them."

Little five-year-old Taddy, reports the Christian Science Monitor, had been in Kindergarten for several weeks without showing any signs of being an outstanding student.

Therefore, when he trotted home after school one day with a large gold star pinned to his shirt, his surprised but pleased mother asked what the reward was all about.

"Well," said the child proudly, "every day we rest for 15 minutes, and today I rested the best."

The big city's philharmonic orchestra had just performed a symphony at a small town theatre. As the great conductor was leaving the theatre, he was stopped by an intense-looking stranger.

"I feel I must tell you," said the stranger. "Those men who play the instruments that slide in and out—they only play in the intervals when you're looking at them."

Mrs. Newlywed greeted her husband as he returned from the office with copious crocodile tears and a telegram.

"I had to open the telegram," she said. "Your rich uncle has passed away."

After a short pause she couldn't contain herself any longer.

"Yes, he did," her husband said, "but I wouldn't care to repeat what he said."

A cool musician was strolling down Broadway when he came upon an old organ grinder playing his beat-up instrument while a monkey did a little dance on the sidewalk and doffed his cap for coins. "Man," said the musician, stopping to watch, "I don't dig your music, but that crazy kid of yours has got a lot of talent."
